Practitioner Communities (formerly LIGs)

A variety of discussion groups allowing members to network with fellow professionals and gain valuable insights into specific areas of interest (prior to most monthly dinner meetings).

PMI-MN currently has the following four active Practitioner Communities

- Agile.
- Healthcare Project Management.
- Innovations and New Product Development (INPD).
- Portfolio Management.

Practitioner Communities are a great way for members and professionals to...

- Network.
- Share best practices.
- Gain information and knowledge.
- Earn PDUs (1.0) for each session attended.

Practitioner Communities offer participants an opportunity to meet individuals in their PM interest areas, and to share unique experiences and problems with them.
